

Lemon Tree

Peter Paul and Mary

[A//] [E7//] [A] [E7//] [A//]

When [A] I was [E7] just a [A] lad of ten, my father [E7] said to [A] me,
"Come here and [E7] take a [A] lesson
From the [E7] lovely lemon [A] tree."

"Don't [D] put your [A7] faith in [D] love, my boy,"
My father [A7] said to [D] me,

I fear you'll [A7] find that [D] love is like the lovely [A7] lemon [D >] tree

[D>] Le-[D>]-mon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

Lemon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

One [A] day be-[E7]neath the [A] lemon tree,
My love and [E7] I did [A] lie,

A girl so [E7] sweet that [A] when she smiled,
The stars rose [E7] in the [A] sky.

We [D] passed that [A7] summer [D] lost in love,
Beneath the [A7] lemon [D] tree,

The music [A7] of her [D] laughter
Hid my father's [A7] words from [D >] me.

[D>] Le-[D>]-mon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

Lemon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

One [A] day she [E7] left with-[A]out a word,
She took a-[E7]way the [A] sun.

And in the [E7] dark she [A] left behind,
I knew what [E7] she had [A] done.

She [D] left me [A7] for a-[D]nother, it's a common [A7] tale but [D] true,
A sadder [A7] man, but [D] wiser now, I sing these [A7] words to [D >] you

[D>] Le-[D>]-mon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

Lemon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

Lemon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat.

Lemon [A] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [E7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [A] eat. [A >]

Lemon Tree

Peter Paul and Mary

[G //] [D7//] [G] [D7//] [G//]

When [G] I was [D7] just a [G] lad of ten, my father [D7] said to [G] me,
"Come here and [D7] take a [G] lesson
From the [D7] lovely lemon [G] tree."

"Don't [C] put your [G7] faith in [C] love, my boy,"
My father [G7] said to [C] me,

I fear you'll [G7] find that [C] love is like the lovely [G7] lemon [C >] tree

[C>] Le-[C>]-mon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

Lemon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

One [G] day be-[D7]neath the [G] lemon tree,
My love and [D7] I did [G] lie,

A girl so [D7] sweet that [G] when she smiled,
The stars rose [D7] in the [G] sky.

We [C] passed that [G7] summer [C] lost in love,
Beneath the [G7] lemon [C] tree,

The music [G7] of her [C] laughter
Hid my father's [G7] words from [C >] me.

[C>] Le-[C>]-mon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

Lemon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

One [G] day she [D7] left with-[G]out a word,
She took a-[D7]way the [G] sun.

And in the [D7] dark she [G] left behind,
I knew what [D7] she had [G] done.

She [C] left me [G7] for a-[C]nother, it's a common [G7] tale but [C] true,
A sadder [G7] man, but [C] wiser now, I sing these [G7] words to [C >] you

[C>] Le-[C>]-mon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

Lemon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

Lemon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat.

Lemon [G] tree, very pretty, and the lemon flower is [D7] sweet,
But the fruit of the poor lemon is impossible to [G] eat. [G >]